What makes this rod special?

This is a rod that is larger and stronger than the Sato. It's longer and will put up a fight!

The Satoki can be fished at 10'8", 12'2", and 13'7". At the shorter lengths it balances incredibly well in the hand due to the counter-balance of the collapsed sections. At 13'7", it's smoother casting than our other offerings at this length. At all lengths, it provides a strong, confident feel when casting and playing fish. With a 22.5" closed length, the Satoki is easy to pack to that larger river or neighborhood pond you'll be fishing.

The handle has our normal double tapered design to give the angler options on how they hold the rod for any given circumstance. We opted for durable foam construction to match the heavier use we anticipate for the rod. The Satoki handle assembly has a striking woven graphite finish, with classic reddish brown segments throughout the rod. The Satoki does feature our patented "keep your plug" system along with the aforementioned triple zoom functionality.
